

Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, The members of the Association of Independent Colleges and Schools (AICS), National Business Education Association and the Nation Secretaries Association (International) are performing the vital function of securing this country's future growth and development through building a strong business education component; and,

WHEREAS, The United States is the most technologically and economically advanced country, thus creating millions of jobs requiring specialized career training; and,

WHEREAS, Bookkeepers, stenographers, laboratory technicians, specialists in marketing and merchandising, computer programmers and operators, and other well-trained persons are becoming every more important to the sustenance and growth of the free enterprise system; and,

WHEREAS, To insure that proper emphasis is placed on the education of these individuals, attention should be drawn to the contribution business schools and colleges make to the community, and the students, teachers, parents, business people and government officials of South Dakota should be reminded that the demand for trained workers exceeds the supply; and,

WHEREAS, The National Education for Business Week has three purposes: 1. To focus attention on the shortage of workers whose practical skills are basic to the future of business; 2. To provide business educators with the recognition they deserve for the support they provide; and 3. To stimulate interest among young people in vocations and careers that have promising futures in the world of business:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim the week of April 13-19, 1980, as in South Dakota and alert the citizens of South Dakota to the scarcity of well-trained, qualified people to fill the jobs available in business, industry, health care occupations and elsewhere, and urge you to become aware of the educational means in our State by which we can develop our under-utilized potential.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Fifth Day of April, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty
